A SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER asked her students: "If you had $2,000,000 would you give half of it to help the poor?" They all said, "YES!" "If you had $2,000 would you give half of that?" Again they said "YES!" "If you had $2 would you give half to the poor?" This time they hesitated. So she asked one of the boys, "Why didn't you say yes?" He replied, "Because I have two dollars."

July 19, 2015

Is there more value in a group rosary?

Does it mean more to pray the rosary in a group? The congregational rosary before Mass disturbs my meditative time before Mass in church.

There is power and strength in community prayer. We are social beings and like to do things together. That is why we like to root for our sport teams with other people present.

But we also have a personal side. For myself, I like to go into a silent chapel with the presence of the Blessed Sacrament. There are, nonetheless, so many ways to enter into the presence of the Lord.

So while both forms of prayer have great value, the norms for the celebration of the Eucharist call for a silent time of meditation before the Mass begins. This may only be for a few brief moments. This is so people will end their conversations and more fully participate in the celebration with limited distractions. Therefore, the rosary should end before Mass with adequate time for personal quiet and reflection. If this is done, then everyone has an opportunity to enter into prayer in a way that he or she wants.

Whether one prays alone or with others, the important thing is that we are trying. Devotion to Mary has always been a long-standing tradition among Catholics. The rosary is one popular way for many people.
