Marriage Minute

On our wedding day, can anyone remember thinking, "I want to do as little as possible for my spouse?" Hopefully not, and yet, sometimes as the years go on, we start thinking, "Does she really expect me to do that?"

Something went wrong along the way, and we can slip, or at least be tempted to slip, into a dangerous attitude that Jesus warns us about in the Gospel. The Pharisees were always thinking, "What is the minimum I have to do to please God?" Jesus tells us our righteousness must surpass the Pharisees. In marriage, we rob ourselves of God's joy when we look to do the minimum for our beloved. To fight this temptation, try:

- A marriage retreat
- Daily prayer with your spouse
- The Sacrament of Reconciliation
- Regular date nights

CHOICE

"If you choose you can keep the commandments," Sirach tells us. God "has set before you fire and water; to whichever you choose, stretch forth your hand" (Sirach 15:15, 16). This is a great mystery: God does not control us so completely that we cannot choose our own path. We have certain boundaries, of course, but no one but we can choose our way within those boundaries.

In today's reading from Matthew's Gospel, Jesus reminds us of our freedom and our responsibility for our lives. He calls us to look beyond the words of the commandments, all the way to their meaning. Look beyond the adultery to the selfishness that poisons our love. Look beyond the murder to the anger that eats away at our compassion. Look beyond the perjured testimony to the lies and deception that drive our behavior.

Our vocation is to choose life for ourselves, & to choose a path through our part of the world that helps make life possible and more abundant for others as well.
